Coleus Forskolin

Coleus Forskolin has been used and recommended for centuries in the ancient medicine system of Ayurveda as an aid to heart, respiratory system, and digestive tract health.

Modern clinical research since the 1970's has shown that coleus forskolin also plays a major role in a variety of important cell functions and improved metabolism that helps to promote fat burning and weight loss.

Ampak represents Alchem International, a fully integrated manufacturer of coleus forskolin. Although there has been a recent shortage of the root used to make the extract, we presently have an ample supply of this highly functional ingredient for our customers.
